C. & O. Kills Ninety-three.

Statistics compiled by the Safety First Committee of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company for the past year show that there was a total of 93 people killed on the line of the C. & O. between Norfolk and Chicago. Of this number, every one of whom were trespassers, 13 were killed stealing rides on trains; 67 were killed trespassing on the tracks; 9 were killed at crossings where there were no precautions taken to warn them of approaching trains; 4 were found dead beside the tracks and the cause of their death was unknown and undetermined. It is possible that in the case of the latter a number may have died of violence at other hands and been thrown beside the tracks for the purpose of placing the blame on the railroad. As a matter of fact, 89 were killed through trespassing, a violation of the company's rules and the laws of the states. The Safety First Committee of the C. & O. is constantly on the lookout for methods of improving safety on the road at all times.

THIS NEW KIND OF

Motorcycle

CAN BE USED ALL WINTER

If you buy a Two-Speed Yale Motorcycle you can ride it all through the winter as well as during the months of good weather, for there is a machine of such great ability that it will do work that was impossible with the older types. With the tremendous reserve power of the Two-Speed Yale you can plow through the deep snowdrifts without trouble. The low center of gravity and perfect balance make it easy to handle on bad roads, and the big three-inch (automobile size) studded tires grip the snowy or ice covered road surfaces firmly and make control safe and sure. True, the old kind of motorcycles couldn't do this—most riders stored their machines till springtime—but the new Two-Speed Yale is a machine for use all the year round, under all conditions.

OLD HICKORY AND SEMINOLES

Modern Jacksonville Reverses His Memory At Reunion

Spirit of Great Man Militant in Confederate Reunion City—Why Jacksonville Was Named in His Honor.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Confederate soldiers, the world over, reverse the name of Andrew Jackson, and in view of the fact that their next reunion is to be held in the only city in the South that was named in honor of that great and brave man, his services in freeing Florida from the blight of Indian barbarism will be of interest.

Jacksonville was named for Gen. Andrew Jackson as a compliment and mark of appreciation for services he rendered to civilization in the Seminole War. There could have been no progress or civilization in Florida but for the work of Andrew Jackson. Conditions in this territory in 1818, nearly a hundred years ago, demanded the services of a brave and resolute man. Gen Jackson was selected by the government as the one man above all others to head the movement against the Seminole Indians, who had been terrorizing the territory for several years and committing atrocities of the most brutal character.

In March, 1818, Gen. Jackson was ordered to the site of the Seminole War. He invaded East Florida, and in a campaign of less than six weeks crushed these Indians. It is related by historians that in one village, not far removed from Jacksonville, he found 300 scalps of men, women and children, many of them still fresh, hanging on a war pole. Gen. Jackson knew that the Spaniards were in sympathy with the Indians in their attacks on American settlers. After cleaning up a number of Indian villages he captured the Spanish post of St. Marks. For this act he was severely censured by his government. However, the naked fact is that "Old Hickory" was more courageous than the men who were conducting the affairs of state at Washington.

Gen. Bennett H. Young, Louisville, Ky., Commander in Chief United Confederate Veterans, Who Hold Their Reunion at Jacksonville in May.

Early in May, 1818, Gen. Jackson closed his campaign against the Seminoles in East Florida. He had completely broken their power and run them out of the territory. They caused no more serious trouble.

During his campaign in East Florida Gen. Jackson obtained satisfactory evidence that Spanish officers at Pensacola were in sympathy with the Indians. He promptly decided to march against them and teach them a lesson. The Spanish governor of West Florida, learning of Gen. Jackson's purpose, sent him a written protest against his invasion. This protest is now on file among the Jackson documents in charge of the Tennessee Historical Society at Nashville. The protest was delivered to Gen. Jackson near Pensacola on May 23, but it had no effect on that determined man. In reply he sent a peremptory demand for the immediate surrender of Pensacola and Barrancas. Jackson advanced immediately on Pensacola and possessed it. Two days later the Barrancas garrison capitulated, were received as prisoners of war and sent to Havana.

Having thus snatched both East and West Florida from the Indians and Spaniards, Gen. Jackson at once proceeded to establish a provisional government under the stars and stripes. Having accomplished this, he returned to Tennessee, then his home.

In 1822 a number of pioneers held a meeting here and decided to start the work of building a town. The village was then known as the Cow Ford, a name given to it by the Indians. After perfecting an organization, the incorporation unfurled the banner of Jacksonville in honor of Gen. Jackson, who had made it possible for white men to live here.

When the Confederate soldiers and their friends meet here for the 24th annual reunion Jacksonville will impress them with all the force of Andrew Jackson. It is now a modern progressive city of 85,000 population, one of the thriving business centers of the New South. Its varied attractions will delight all who attend the reunion, and no matter how large the crowd may be, Jacksonville will take care of all.

Made Strong and Well by Vinol. When we tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in our whole stock for making weak, puny, ailing children strong, robust and rosy we are only telling you what has been proved by hundreds of mothers.

J. L. Fickling, Macon, Ga., says: "My child was very thin and delicate, no appetite, nervous, and did not sleep well. Doctors did not help her. Vinol was recommended and the change after a fair trial was wonderful. She sleeps soundly all night, has a splendid appetite and has gained in weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

What Vinol did for this little girl it will do for every weak and ailing child because sickly children need the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine, healthy color. ### AN OLD ONE BY TWAIN

When Mark Twain in his early days was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good or bad luck. The humorist wrote him this answer and printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

IGNORANCE IS BLISS

The News did not print the story that Owsley Stanley was going to withdraw from the Senatorial race because it did not believe it was true. As Stanley was foolish enough to get into this race against the advice of some of his real friends he will not have the political sagacity to get out of it.—Elizabethtown News.

CAMDEN FOR GOVERNOR

Col. Johnson M. Camden, of Woodford county is in Louisville to attend the big southern educational conference this week and to preside over the farmers' adjunct of the notable gathering. Col. Camden is being frequently mentioned these days in connection with the gubernatorial race next year, but he only smiled when told that he was regarded by many as the Democratic hope in the 1915 State contest. He was delighted on his arrival here on being handed a telegram stating that his friends and business associate, John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, who has been desperately ill in a Cincinnati hospital, was much improved and that his doctors now hold out the hope of his recovery. Agricultural extension and development in Kentucky is one of the pet hobbies of Col. Camden, and he is devoting much of his time and means to that purpose.—Louisville Times.
